NOT IN KENTUCKY.

(A shot at the Bluegrass State by a Westerner.)

The moonlight may be soft,

In Kentucky;

And summer's days come oft

In Kentucky;

But I've seen lover's fires glow

Just as long as the O-hio,

And you're always on the "blow,"

In Kentucky.

The sunshiny may be bright,

In Kentucky;

The breeze may whisper light,

In Kentucky;

But for faces that are fair,

You will find them everywhere,

And you have no red hair,

In Kentucky.

Life's burdens may be light,

In Kentucky;

Home fires may burn bright,

In Kentucky;

But for card-playing with a guest,

Just try the good old West,

And don't you think you are the best,

In Kentucky.

The orators may be grand,

In Kentucky;

Officials may be bland,

In Kentucky;

But for boys who are up-to-date

You can't beat the Empire State,

For you all get up too late,

In Kentucky.

The bluegrass may be fine,

In Kentucky;

And bluebirds may be few,

In Kentucky;

But you seem to be quite proud

Of the large and noisy crowd,

Which gets full, and is allowed,

In Kentucky.

The dove notes may be sad,

In Kentucky;

The streams may dance on glad,

In Kentucky;

But of cylinders that will turn

And of bullets that will burn

You have still a lot to learn,

In Kentucky.

The song-birds may sing sweet,

In Kentucky;

The thoroughbreds may be fleet,

In Kentucky;

But for politics that are queer,

You can find them right out here;

While for mountains, woods and air,

You have naught that can compare,

In Kentucky.

Tacoma, Wash.

July Weather Forecast.

July is primarily the month of patience and perspiration. It is the month when the busy mosquito reaches the prime of life and becomes the most affectionate; it is the month

when the night-blooming hellebore becomes universally stylish; it is the month the potato bug and the army of locusts become ripe, and it is the month when the rural lad with the low-necked overalls steals water-melons and choleas morbus from the neighbors.

July this year will open cool, but the normal temperature will be regulated by the fourth, so that the nose of the doctor of the day will have the customary blistered on it. Excepting this, the dry weather will continue until the 7th, when the temperature will change for the hotter.

This condition will continue until the 14th, during which time the regular hot weather jokers will be harvested.

This will be followed by a backcountry storm period, during which much damage will be done on land and sea. There will be several winds, driving rains, thunder, lightning and rural profanity. Farms will be torn up by the roofs, and hail stones about three inches larger than the newspaper readers' incredulity, will fall. This storm will last until the 15th, when the temperature will drop from six to eight inches throughout the United States.

During the cold nights of this period we advise housewives to throw a superannuated newspaper over the family veranda, and to upholster the non-blooming oleander with an overworked bed quilt. We also advise farmers to get the shoats and the spring calves in out of the night air as much as possible and to bed down the hens a little more generously.

From the 15th to the 20th a hot wave will sweep through the country from south to north. Persons who during the cold north, had continued that summer was practically over and were preparing to put up the base-burner and carry the coals down to the cellar, will suddenly change their plans and their wearing apparel

when this warm wave comes.

During these times there will be quite a drop in butter, especially where the farmer tries to bring it to town in a porous bottomed basket.

The summer resort mosquito will go down to the depot to meet the big delegations from the cities and towns;

the hired man will leave the plow in the furrow and go fishing; the country merchant will roll in the barrel of ax handles from in front of his store, lock up his shop and wander off some place where he can "dangle a line in the water and catch a blither on the back of his neck; and the annual grasshopper delegation will march across the country and trample down the hay, eat up the garden, kidnap the children and burglarize the smokehouse.

On the 21st there will be three bank robberies and a thunder storm. On the 22d there will be a balloon ascension. On the 23d there will be open hostilities between a bald headed man and a fly. On the 24th the wild man shift to the west, and on the 25th

there will be a Sunday School picnic in northern Texas that will break up in a cyclone.

The rest of the month will continue hot and sultry, and the people will divide their time between looking at the tops of their thermometers and saying mean and unkind things about the state of the weather. And, thus, discouraged, out of sorts and universally cussed, with no one to speak a kind word for her, July will sneak quietly out of the way, while August will hop upon the scene.—Ex.

The Queer Ways of the Missouri

River.

"Oh, he was here in Omaha when the Ohio river ran the other way."

This favorite phrase descriptive of "landmarks" in the Western city has lost its utility. No longer does it convey any intelligible idea to the mind of him who is at all familiar with the waters of that great stream.

The Missouri has done everything but run up hill right before the sometimes incredulous eyes of the populace, and were you to tell a person who lives on its banks that night

while he was sleeping the "Big Muddy" ran northward for a spell, it would be difficult to induce him to lay a wager that you were telling him an untruth.

The Missouri is easily the most eratic river on the map, says the New York Times. It has done wonders, and repeated them, just to show that they were not accidents. Farmers whose lands lie along its shores can tell only by the sunrise and sunset whether they should vote for the Governor of Iowa or of Nebraska.

Not infrequently do they find their farms submerged, and then the country round about is awakened with the

"hoarse cry" "Back to the highlands," which means take a bridge to the other side.

Down at Kansas City the Missouri

helped elect the Government and rendered consoling aid to a poor squatter named John H. Mensing.

"Way back in 1877 Mensing discovered an island in the Missouri about a stone's throw from what is now the foot of one of Kansas City's principal streets. Upon this he took up his residence and lived happily until one day Uncle Sam came along looking for a place to establish reservations and decided to take it. The squatter resisted, and was driven at the point of a bayonet to one corner of the island. There he erected a stockade and hid defiance to the soldiers.

At that time the island was much larger; but the Missouri seemed to respect the presence of the soldiers as much as Mensing did, and from that date began to eat the land away by slow degrees, until only about three acres remained. But the three acres were where Mensing had erected his stockade. He concluded that Providence was with him. The Government had no more use for the island, and the soldiers were withdrawn. Then the river began in-dustrously putting the earth back again, and in due course the three acres grew to 130.

About this time the prospective value of the land was reorganized, and proceedings were begun in the Interior Department to have the island declared a public reservation.

This action was defeated. Later several individuals and corporations fought in the courts on one ground or another for possession of the island, but none has been successful. Men-sing is now the owner, under squater's title, and his island is valued at $125,000.

Rivermen who have "sailed" the Missouri for many years speak monthly of the decadence of the famous old stream. According to them the Big Muddy is superannuated, decrepit, and disgustingly incapable. It has passed its day and is entering a feeble, inactive second childhood. Facts prove that the Missouri is only a pigmy stream compared with its former size.

When the Northern Pacific railroad bridge at Bismarck, N. D., was built its four piers were set in the river.

At the present time there is but one of the piers in the waters, which has receded to such an extent that the other three are high and dry upon the banks and sandbars. Last winter, for the first time since the establishment of a water system at Bismarck, the water was so low in the Missouri, from which the supply is drawn, that the intake pipe was left several inches above the stream.

This caused a serious water famine in Bismarck until a new intake pipe could be laid. Similar trouble was experienced at several cities all along the river down to the "forks" of the Mississippi.

What was once a mighty stream has gradually dwindled until at the present time the river is so low that it has much the appearance of a slugish creek. The channel is extremely narrow, and old hulks of vessels that went to the bottom in former years in deep water are now exposed to sight.

Civil engineers and rivermen who have watched the course of the Missouri for sometime are inclined to the opinion that some subterranean waste is gradually lessening the volume of water in the river. It has been suggested that the opening of artesian wells through the Dakotas is the cause. It is asserted that the waters that formerly passed through the underground channels into the Missouri

have been diverted to these artesian wells, which are continually gushing forth immense quantities of water in various portions of those States.

Whether or not the ascription is correct, certain it is that the historic

"Big Muddy" has lost much of its former majesty.

Summer complaint is unusually prevalent among children this season.

A well developed case in the writers family was cured last week by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy—one of the

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Circuit Judge.

We are authorized to announce W. T. OWEN of Davison county, as a candidate for Circuit Judge in the Sixth Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Congress adjourned Tuesday.

The County Treasurer business started off well—for the banks.

Mr. Ed Lang, of the Rosine precinct, says a County Treasurer is a good thing—for the banks.

KEN TUCKER received $2,400,000 from the life insurance companies last year, for which they paid $5,700,000. Life insurance ought to be a good thing; it comes high.

EVEN the Georgia Democrats made a State platform without any reference to Bryan or the Kansas City platform. Poor Billy; he was dead a long time before he knew it.

DAVID KINCHELOE, County Attorney of McLean county, is about to enter the race for the Democratic nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney. If he decides to do so, he will no doubt come out second best.

THEN AND NOW.

The Hartford Herald, in commenting upon the 16 to 1 silver issue, says: "As to whether the next National Democratic Convention will endorse or advocate 'free silver' in any form, remains to be seen. Many holding Democrats were for bimetallism even under the meaningless caption of 'free silver,' but they could not get the consent of their minds to endorse the arbitrary 'flat of 16 to 1.'"

Goa whist! Aint this strange readin' from that erstwhile ultra free silver-or-bust 16 to 1 champion? Turn back to the 1896 issues of that paper and compare its laudations then of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation on the face of the earth, with its expressions Wednesday of "meaningless caption of free silver and arbitrary flat of 16 to 1." The Herald proceeds:

"The American people are as chary of arbitrariness and specialness as they are of excess. They do not believe in extremes in any direction. They are willing to let matters remain as they are, even though unsatisfactory, rather than faster their faith to something that leads them to a declaration that neither modification restricted by conditions or exceptions."

This very strong denunciation of the Chicago platform is well-drawn, but Henry Watterson drew the original several years ago, and for so doing he was then denounced by the Herald in a half dozen languages. This plagiarizing from the Courier-Journal of several years ago is a great compliment to Mr. Watterson.

FORDSVILLE.

SMALLHOUSE.

Wednesday the 25th, death visited our community and claimed Mr. Henry R. Ball as its victim. Mr. Ball had been afflicted for sometime with consumption, and his suffering was great, yet he bore it all with great fortitude. He was a member of the M. E. Church at Equality and will be sadly missed. After funeral services by his pastor, Rev. G. W. Shugart, his body was laid to rest in the graveyard, known as the "Aunt Nellie graveyard." He was fifty-two years, seven months and twenty-six days old, and leaves a wife, four daughters and three sons to mourn his loss.

Miss Nora Maddox, of Beaver Dam, was the guest of Miss Oma Maddox several days last week.

Miss Ruth Hill has returned from a visit of several weeks to her aunt, Mrs. Sam Graves, Sacramento.

Miss Nellie Bennett, Centertown, was the guest of relatives here last week.

Mr. Herman Barnard, Georgetown, Ky., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Barnard.

Rev. D. J. K. Maddox preached at the Smallhouse Baptist church the fourth Saturday and Sunday.

Rev. Gordon, of Cool Springs, visited friends here recently, and on Monday night preached at Smallhouse Baptist church.

Misses Oma Maddox, Nora Maddox and Grace Reid, Messrs. Lewis Fulkerson, Herman Addington and Ray Addington, took a trip to Peters Cave last Wednesday.

Mr. Ab Veiser was the guest of Miss Oma Maddox Sunday.

Prof. M. D. Maddox has returned from a trip to Lexington.

Mr. S. L. Maddox, Rockport, Ky., was the guest of relatives here recently.

A wee young lady arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dannie Hill on June the 16th to remain sometime.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Hunter spent Sunday at Mr. B. T. Iglehearts.

Miss Eunice Bishop, Point Pleasant, is the guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Eversly.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fulkerson and William H. and James Fulkerson, visited Mr. Joe Schultz and family Friday returning Sunday.

Miss Nina Ballock is the guest of relatives at Central City.

Mr. and Mrs. David Luck and little son, Halcomb, Matanzas, spent Sunday with their sister, Mrs. Joe Ballcock.

Messrs. H. P. Addington and W. E. Fulkerson have returned home from the South after an absence of several months.

Mr. Sam Bishop and wife, of near Walton's Creek, visited Mrs. Bishop's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Harris Sunday.

Miss Augusta Geiger is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Laz Atherton, McLean county.

Convince yourself that Ely's Cream Balm deserves all that has been said of it as a means of quick relief and final cure in obstinate cases of nasal catarrh and hay fever. A trial size costs but 10 cents. Full size, 50 cents. Sold by druggists and by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

Mr. Olive, Ark., May 17, 1901. Messrs. Ely Bros.—Please send me one bottle of Cream Balm, family size. I think it is the best medicine for catarrh in the world. Very respectfully, J. M. Scholtz.

DUNDEE.

The Masonic Barbecue was quite a success, being attended by a large crowd. Everyone seemed to enjoy the day very much.

Miss Muriel Gregory and brother, Mr. Leonard, of Cloverport, are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Romney Renfrow.

Miss Artie Wedding, of Hartford, who has been visiting relatives here, returned home Sunday.

Miss Maud Howard, of Central City, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Julia Renfrow.

Old Man Held To Answer.

Bowling Green, Ky., July 1.—William Stevens, white, aged seventy who was arrested here Saturday for assaulting a ten year old girl, waived an examining trial this morning and was held over to await the action of the next grand jury. In default of $1,000 bond he was remanded back to jail.

Adjourned Sine Die

Washington, July 1.—A mild scene of enthusiasm that has not been paralleled since the exciting and stirring days of the Spanish war, Speaker Henderson, at 5:30 this afternoon declared the house of representatives adjourned without delay. In doing so he said that no house of representatives since the adoption of the constitution had done as much work as this one. The galleries were banked to the doors, and almost two-thirds of the members were in their seats or on the floor. The speaker's appreciative words to the members in thanking them for their co-operation during the session, had touched a responsive chord, and they gave him a remarkable demonstration of their friendship and good will. While the cheering and applause were still in progress the members on the floor began singing, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee." It was taken up by the correspondents in the press gallery over the speakers

OLD PEOPLE

Do not always receive the sympathy and attention which they deserve. Their ailments are regarded as purely imaginary, or natural and unavoidable at their time of life. Disease and infirmity should not always be associated with old age. The eye of the gray haired grandire may be as bright and the complexion as fair as any of his younger and more vigorous companions.

Good Blood is the secret of healthy old age, for it regulates and controls every part of the body, strengthens the muscles elastic and supple, the bones strong and the flesh firm; but when this life fluid is polluted or poisoned and loses its nutritive, health sustaining elements, then there is a rapid decline of the vital powers, resulting in premature old age and disease. Any derangement of the blood quickly shows itself in an ulcer, sore, wart, tumor or some other troublesome growth upon the body, and rheumatic and neuralgic pains become almost constant, accompanied with poor digestion and cold extremities.

S. S. S. being purely vegetable, is the safest and best blood purifier for old people. It does not shock or hurt the system like the strong mineral remedies, but gently and thoroughly cleanses the blood and stimulates the debilitated organs, when all bodily ailments disappear. S. S. S. is just such a tonic as old people need to improve a weak digestion and tone up the Stomach. If there is any hereditary taint, or the remains of some disease contracted in early life, S. S. S. will search it out and remove every vestige of it from the system.

Write us fully about your case and let our physicians advise and help you. This will cost you nothing, and we will mail free our book on blood and skin diseases.

chair and by the spectators in the surrounding galleries and soon the vast hall was ringing with the swelling chorus. Other patriotic airs followed as the members exchanged farewells. "The Star Spangled Banner" alternating with "Dixie." The speaker came down from the rostrum his appearance on the floor being greeted with "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," and a perfect rush of members to grasp his hand. Standing in the area in front of the clerk's desk he too joined in the songs and there was a wild scene when Gen. Hooker of Mississippi, the one armed Confederate veteran, took his place by his place by the side of the speaker and together they sang "Dixie."

"I am using a box of Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets and find them the best thing for my stomach I ever used," says T. W. Robinson, Justice of the Peace, Loomis, Mich. These Tablets not only correct disorders of the stomach but regulate the liver and bowels. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by all druggists.

Rev. G. J. Bean attended Children's day exercises at Old Salem church Sunday and gave an interesting and appreciated talk. Bro. Bean is the oldest and best known preacher in Ohio county, and his presence is welcomed in any gathering of Ohio county people. He entered the ministry more than a half a century ago, and has done most of his work among the people of his home county. Brother Bean has never assumed to be a great preacher, but his sturdy character, earnest purpose and industrious effort to do his duty, as he saw it, has won for him the good will of everybody with whom he has associated.

The editor of this paper has received an interesting personal letter from Mr. John C. Barnard, who is visiting his brother, Charlie, at Okmulgee, Indian Territory, containing references to Ohio county folks out there, which would perhaps interest our readers. Mr. Barnard says Sterling P. Leach has engaged in the livery business and is having a prosperous trade. Mr. Charlie Barnard is in a grocery house. Both Mr. Leach and Mr. Charlie Barnard have bought and paid for a nice residence in Okmulgee. Mr. John C. Barnard says he expects to locate somewhere in Indian Territory.

One hundred, twenty and six years ago to-day our fathers made a declaration that startled the world. It was that the thirteen feeble American colonies, scattered along the Western coast of the Atlantic ocean, had severed their allegiance to the mightiest kingdom on earth. Then for seven years a small, but invincible army of American patriots waged a war, the results of which were the establishment of a liberty never known in the governments of men before, and which has come down to us as a glorious heritage. Be it said to the honor of the American people that they are all out to-day to do honor to the founders of this glorious liberty.

One day during the recent rains and thunder storms, lightning played quite a prank on Mr. Henry Arment, living near town. It has been his custom for a number of years to keep his double-barrel shotgun setting near the head of his bed, and during one of the most severe electrical storms recently, the lightning struck a tree in his yard and the gun was discharged, tearing off a large portion of the window facing and blowing a whole in the ceiling of the room. Mr. Arment was in his yard near the well at the time, and he was thrown to the ground with considerable force. The house was not damaged except having the walls torn up from the discharge of the gun.

What are Humors?

They are vitiated or morbid fluids coursing the veins and affecting the tissues. They are commonly due to defective digestion but are sometimes inherited.

How do they manifest themselves? In many forms of cutaneous eruption, salt rheum or eczema, pimples and boils, in weakness, languor, general debility. How are they expelled? By Hood's Sarsaparilla which also builds up the system that has suffered from them. It is the best medicine for all humors.

INFANTICIDE.

A Deanfield Girl Destroys Her Unnatural Offspring to Save Her Good Name.

A horrifying story reaches us from Deanfield, a mining town in the northern end of the county on the Illinois Central railroad. Several days ago a report gained currency that Maggie McGrall, a beautiful and popular young lady of that town, had given birth to a child, the disposition of which was a mystery. Citizens of the town initiated a search for the child's body, which was finally located under some rubbish in an outbuilding, with bruises about its head and body, which indicated the manner of its death.

For awhile the girl stoutly denied giving birth to the child, but finally yielded to the indisputable evidence existing and confessed the truth about the child's birth, but insisted she had committed no violence on its person.

Upon the finding of the body Coroner Davis was sent for and he empaneled a jury, which, after hearing the evidence, returned the following verdict:

"We, the jury, find upon investigation, that the body of an infant child was found concealed in outbuilding on Jim McGrall's premises in the town of Deanfield, Ohio county, Ky. June 25, 1902, and there being sufficient evidence on its body to show that it was brought to its death by neglect and violence, at birth by Maggie McGrall, of the aforesaid town."

"C. A. KELLEY, Foreman." A few days later death covered her shame with its merciful shadows, and she sleeps to what awakening only God and the angels know. This poor girl, daring to put out a life to save that priceless jewel that men call character, is not without its pathetic side. There is a man somewhere who will not pass those two new-made graves without seeing in them two imperishable monuments to his own sin.

John Taylor, of color, who is charged with carrying a pistol concealed on his person, was arrested here Monday by Sheriff Keown and gave bond for his appearance at the November term of the Ohio Circuit Court.

A Gala Day.

The Masonic picnic at Dundee Saturday was the largest popular gathering ever held in Ohio county. The crowd was estimated at from 5,000 to 8,000 persons. There were literally acres of people. There were not less than four acres of wagons and buggies.

As early as eight o'clock in the morning, three thousand people were bidding each other a jolly good-morning, and constant and congested streams of humanity were pouring into the great park from every direction. A notable incident of the occasion was the almost total absence of horseback riders in the incoming crowds. Everybody brought his wife and children or his sweetheart, and kept in best of humor throughout the day. Sheriff Keown was in Louisville, but his entire deputy force were there to look after the tough element which, however, failed to show up. Only one arrest was made during the entire day. Morgan Scagg attempted to give, at the dinner table, an exhibition of how the bad men of Edmonson county did when they were hungry for trouble, but Deputy Sheriff, Jo Roberts, who delights to look after bad men from Edmonson county and elsewhere, spoiled the exhibition with a pair of hand cuffs.

Considered, as a whole, it was the most peaceable and orderly crowd of its size we have ever seen. The grounds and the greater part of the day were ideal for such a gathering.

While the managers deserve much credit for the success of the picnic, many visitors were disappointed at the limited entertainment features. The service at the table and lemonade stands was rendered chiefly by amateurs, but was as satisfactory as could be expected in a crowd of that size.

A heavy downpour of rain about 4 o'clock caused a stampede to shelter, and practically ended the festivities of the day.

Long live the Dundee Lodge, and may they give us more picnics like that of June 28.
